Q-Principle Inc

“The Principle of Qualified Customer Service”

Q-Principle Inc. has earned a national reputation within the field of hospitality for their innovative, effective and interactive learning workshops for employees and managers. The team of Q-Principle is highly specialized in the field of employee-customized service education and offers a wide range of seminars, using “blended learning” and kinetic education opportunities to enhance each seminar. As a point of interest, “blended learning” is the fusion of multiple approaches to enhance the interaction between associates and guests. Q-Principle’s primary goal is to transfer company’s visions and mission into behavioral reality by coaching employees to model these behaviors when interacting with guests, members, customers and consumers on a daily basis.

Q-Principle’s success is due to the unique approach educating staff and management as to the importance of customer care. The concept is fun and reward driven by providing every employee and manager with support, motive and the feeling of success.

*Q-Principle will be raffling off a one-day program to the selected club. There will be no limit as to what program will be done. Bring a business card for this raffle!

Q-Principle has developed an astute understanding in customer care and service excellence and would be excited in sharing our interactive and motivational workshops with your employees and leadership team. Please visit our web site for a more detailed company introduction at www.q-principle.com. Q-Principle takes pride in each program and is intent on delivering the workshops with the highest degree of excitement and passion to your staff and management, resulting in their anticipation to put the learned theories into practice.
